

CORTE ADAMI AMARONE DELLA VALPOLICELLA 2018

Rather reticent nose with some dark plum skin and woody spice. Medium-bodied with quite a racy feel to the palate and the same, slightly subdued fruit and spice. The tannins are rather austere. An almost salty element comes through at the end. Needs a year or two to settle in and open up. Try from 2024.

CORTE ADAMI VALPOLICELLA RIPASSO SUPERIORE 2019

A fruity Valpolicella Ripasso Superiore with some coffee, roasted spices, cherries and plum flavors. There is a lovely crunch to the fruit, with a medium-bodied palate and a lightly spicy finish. Drink now.

CORTE ADAMI AMARONE DELLA VALPOLICELLA RISERVA 2015

Aromas of currants, raisins, dried mushrooms and sweet spice follow through to a full-bodied palate with intense, spicy and almost meaty flavors and still firm tannins that give a slightly abrasive finish. The tannins need to soften more. Continue to wait for this one. Try from 2024.

CORTE ADAMI AMARONE DELLA VALPOLICELLA 2016

Very spicy, meaty nose, offering paprika, roast lamb, dark-chocolate orange and a melange of bright, fresh spice. Some orange rind, too. On the palate, spicier and more citrusy elements take hold and, to a large extent, even out the complexity of the nose. Still, there's no lack of interest here. Drink now.
